The Mason LINE

by Chan Mason

It seems that each time we have decided that L. G. was so torn with dissension over civic matter that it would never recover, something has happened to cause us to say in effect, "Ah heck, this is still a pretty nice place to live."

—ML—

Even in the midst of all the civic sound and fury last week lots of our good citizens took time out to send us gifts of clothing, toys, cigarettes and all manner of presents in response to an article in this column the week before, asking for clothing for our Mexican friends in Baja California. In fact, we have enough things now to include the Herreras who live a half mile south of the Clan Gomez. The Herraras are nine in number, Grandma, mother and father and six "muchachos" and if it's possible are even farther down the Mexican economic ladder than the Gomez family. In the meanwhile, until we visit our friends again, we'll just say "gracias Amigos" for them.

—ML—

Now, Mr. Editor, we'll make like Walter Winchell. The day after our article appeared in this column regarding Dennis Hopper's performance on the TV program "Medic," stating that we thought he should get a nice contract from the movies, two articles appeared, one in the Union by Columnist Donald Freeman, that Hopper had signed a contract with Columbia Picture, then Hedda Hopper stated in her column in the Tribune that evening, that Dennis had signed a long term contract with Warner Bros.

We're not asking for much, Denny, old boy, say 10% of one of your contracts?

—ML—

The life of a car thief, we imagine, is even more precarious than ever what with the new car colors now in evidence. We can just imagine the following being broadcast over 'short wave radio' "Calling car 217. Be on lookout for stolen 1955 auto. Tourmaline top, blood-red hood, grass-green rear sweep with baby-blue interior. That is all." Ain't it enuff?

—ML—

We hear that youthful farm groups such as 4H and Future Farmers may have to withdraw from showing their livestock at the County Fair in Del Mar this summer. According to our information, the boys will be forced to keep their stock at the fair for the full 13 days' duration at a cost to them of some 50 bucks plus the boys' expenses as well. The boys had asked for a split season of five days and had the approval of Del Mar officials but the Division of Fairs and Expositions at Sacramento nixed the idea.

We have felt for some time that our fairs were being run as industrial expositions and are annually getting farther afield from their original purpose.

We have written to our new assemblyman, Sheridan Hegland,

Developers Ask School Board to Withdraw Action on Proposed School Site

An independent organization, The Citizen's Committee on School Costs, was host to Rubin and Sidney Jaffe, operators of the Piedmont Development Co., of El Cajon, at a meeting Monday at the home of Dr. Frank Gigliotti. Up for discussion was the property formerly owned by William West, at the east end of Palm Street on which the Lemon Grove School Board has asked condemnation proceedings so that an elementary and a junior high school might be built. The Jaffes are real estate developers and had completed negotiations with West for the purchase of the property.

The school board had asked condemnation proceedings be invoked at the rate of $5,000 per acre, the price reputedly asked of the purchasers by West.

The Citizen's Committee on School Costs was reactivated by Dr. Frank Gigliotti recently to protest the purchase. Dr. Gigliotti said at that time that the property was too valuable to be removed from the tax rolls and should be permitted to develop as residential property. At the time of the reactivation of the group the roster was opened to include new members Harold Crow, Harry Griffen and Edmund Dunn.

The meeting this week included additionally Ted Haaf.

The Jaffe brothers said "No price was set by us—and we have no intention of setting a price acre-wise. A tentative map has been filed with the planning commission and accepted by the board of supervisors.

"This is no shoe string operation," they said. "It was a bona-fide business investment, not a speculative proposition on option with a small investment involved.

"If the school board withdraws their condemnation action within two weeks, no demands for damages will be made," the brothers said.

"Architectural plans are complete and permits for two buildings have been acquired. We mean business," they said.

The Jaffe firm said they intended to build an indefinite number of houses, probably about 90, with an average value of $16,000. None under $14,000 would be constructed, they said.

Frank Armstrong, president of the Lemon Grove Elementary School Board, stated that the board had been investigating new property sites for about four months. "This was done with the help of a Citizens Advisory Committee on selection of school sites, and a state school authority," Armstrong said.

"The West property was recommended as the best and least expensive. Site development costs and sewers, both extremely important in school locations, help dictate this decision."

Armstrong pointed out that school board meetings were opened to the public, and not one objection concerning the West property was raised until after condemnation proceedings started.

"The committee which Dr. Frank Gigliotti heads, is not to be mistaken with the permanent Lemon Grove Elementary Schools Citizen Adivsory Committee. The two are in no way associated or connected," Armstrong said.

Armstrong said that in most of such cases complainants leave the matter of compensation to the courts rather than to attempt to try the case in newspapers. "The ultimatum in which the subdividers give the board two weeks to rescind their resolution to purchase the West property is resented by me as a member of the board and as a taxpayer.

"Lemon Grove suffers from non resident subdividers failing to give thought to school problems which are created by the numerous children who occupy these houses."

Armstrong also stated that he felt that serious consideration should be given as to whether new schools or new homes are most important in a fast growing community such as Lemon Grove.

Arithmetic Class Set By School Board

Primary arithmetic methods as used in Lemon Grove schools will be explained and demonstrated next Monday evening, January 24, when the Lemon Grove District Board meets. Beginning at 7:30 in the Education Center on Lincoln, the program will also show how audio-visual equipment aids in the arithmetic instruction of students in the first three grades.

According to S. K. Solleder, assistant superintendent, teachers from three district schools will participate. Roberta Smith, first grade teacher at Monterey Heights, Gladys Jones, first grade at Golden Avenue, and Hazel Jensen, third grade at San Miguel, will stage the demonstration.

To date this will complete the agenda for the January 24 mid-month meeting of the board of trustees.

Another Banking Firm Opens In Lemon Grove

The new Lemon Grove Agency for the five and three-quarter million dollar La Mesa El Cajon Savings and Loan Association opened to the public for business Monday at its new quarters at 7800 Broadway in the heart of Lemon Grove.

The office is being managed by Roy C. Barth (left), a former state bank examiner who has had a broad background in bank credits and real estate loans. Barth resides at 3258 Kempf St. in Lemon Grove. He is a York Rite Mason and Shriner.

John A. Davis, president of the savings association, said that rapidly increasing demand for loans in the Lemon Grove, Monterey Heights and Encanto area has made an agency office mandatory to better serve the association's many customers residing in that part of the county. He also said that statistical figures recently available prove Lemon Grove to be one of the fastest growing towns in the state and new businesses are constantly being transferred or established there.

A part of the building which has been separated into another office will be occupied by Dorman & Dorman, attorneys, who are counsel for the savings firm.

V. J. Dorman, a member of the legal firm, lives in Lemon Grove at 6781 Hibiscus.

She said that volunteers were needed for the new Red Cross station wagon which the San Diego chapter gave to the community last year. Those who wish to work may contact her at HO 9-2492.

The local chapter meets every second Monday at 10 a.m. at the Woman's Club.

RAIN IN GROVE TOTALS FULL INCH

Local amateur weather observers reported more than an inch of rain in Lemon Grove during the storm Tuesday.

Streets were flooded and autos stalled. Water stretched completely across Imperial to the railroad tracks. At least two days construction shut down was reported by local builders.

Men's Club to View Own Future

Debate on what the Lemon Grove Men's Club shall stand for in the future will be the order of the day for that club Friday.

Divergence of opinion on how deeply the group should enter local civic affairs has grown during the past year. President Bert Betts, who was elected to office earlier this month, said that the discussion on this issue would comprise the program.

The Men's Club meets Fridays at Michael's. All men in business locally are invited to participate.

Arlene Riddett, 15, of Yonkers, N. Y., is cited in the 1954 American Peoples Encyclopedia Yearbook for her proficiency in marbles.

Rev. Bob Rochelle To Occupy First Baptist Pulpit

The membership of the First Baptist Church, Lemon Grove, will welcome their new pastor, Reverend Bob G. Rochelle, to their pulpit Sunday. He will take over his duties officially upon his resignation from the Chaplain Corps of the U. S. Navy. He succeeds the Reverend J. Morris Mulkey, who resigned his duties as pastor in October, 1954.

Reverend Rochelle will use as his sermon topic Sunday morning "Assistant Pastors." Sunday services are at 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m.

The Dimmer VIEW

by Max Goodwin

The panel on juvenile delinquency which I moderated last week at the Monterey Heights School auditorium for the M. H. P-TA reminded me again of a fact I had long known . . . that juvenile delinquency comes directly from "crazy, mixed up" parents and that parents, often plagued by a feeling of basic insecurity, transmit this to their children.

None of the experts present, nor those in the audience as far as I know, was willing to blame youngsters for becoming fouled in the toils of the law. More interesting, when I asked the audience, "what is a juvenile delinquent?" the answers were as varied as the shades of the social spectrum the problem covers.

The experts, mostly because of lack of time, had answers that fit into the category of the work they did. Obviously, Rev. LeRoy Elster of the Lemon Grove Lutheran Church, would view it from a spiritual position. Mrs. Bernice Miller, supervising assistant county probation officer; Nevil Wiley, executive director of Family Service Association, and Deputy Robert Ryan of the Sheriff's Narcotics Bureau each reported on how the juvenile problem looked from the professional position they occupy.

One revelation by the "experts" seemed surprising to many of the parents present. This is the fact that juvenile delinquents are not necessarily those children charged with some criminal act. "As a matter of fact," reported Wiley, "a number of family prob-

Water Assessment Impact Too Heavy—Von Willer

Robert Von Willer, Lemon Grove plasting contractor, who is running for a seat on the board of directors of the La Mesa, Lemon Grove, Spring Valley Irrigation District, said that he would investigate the heavy increase in assessments of Lemon Grove property which had taken place during the past two years if he were elected at the irrigation district election Wednesday, February 3. He is running against Harry Griffin, investor, incumbent, and Roy Nielsen, real estate broker.

The election will also be for an assessor - treasurer - collector for the entire district. The present assessor is James Squires, of La Mesa. His opponents are Bert Fenwick and R. B. McArthur, all of La Mesa. Fenwick is a former member of the board who was defeated in the Spring Valley district two years ago.

"My experience on the board would be a valuable asset to bring to the office," Fenwick pointed out. "As an elected representative for all three offices I would not bow to the whim of the board."

Nielsen is running on a platform of better water, more pressure, and judicious expenditures for district expansion.

"It just doesn't make sense that irrigation assessments of Lemon Grove property should be increased so heavily two years in a row. It appears to me that better district policies could be spread over a little, thus reducing the impact," he said.

Von Willer, chairman of the board of trustees of the Congregational Church, and past president of the Lions Club, said that representation in the Lemon Grove area had left much to be desired.

WATER WORKS MAILS SAMPLE BALLOTS

Irrigation district election sample ballots are being mailed to potential voters for the first time in their history.

About 31,000 voters will receive their ballots this week. Irrigation district law permits, but does not require, that the ballots be distributed.

District officials said that there are so many new people in the area who do not know they have a vote that it was decided to make the mailing.

The election is set for Wednesday, February 2.

Pie to Fly in Operation 'Custard in the Kisser'—But it's for Polio

You will be able to shove a custard pie into the face of the townsmen of your choice but it will be in the interest of the March of Dimes. The "Custard Caper" is one of the gags planned by the Lemon Grove Polio Chairman, Henry Goldy, to make this year's event, which is probably the last, a success.

Goldy said that contributions this year would go for the Salk vaccine, which the Polio Foundation has been stockpiling during the past year.

Polio Foundation people have indicated that the vaccine is a successful deterrent to the disease and success will be officially announced this summer.

In addition to the Custard Pie event, a Slave Auction and a Road Block will be held Saturday, January 29. A Balloon Sale, and a Block of Dimes will be held Friday and Saturday, January 28 and 29.

Committed to stick their heads through a hole in a canvas sheet for the purpose of receiving the pies are A. F. Sonka, well known old-time resident, Dr. Gilbert Chassey, local physician, Frenchy Faucher, Lemon Grove postmater, Max Goodwin, Editor of the Lemon Grove Review, and Sheriff Willard Rigley.

Any reasonable contribution will allow the pie pusher to vent his feelings on the face of his choice.

Pies are being contributed by Bert Brolin of Brolin's Swedish Bakery and Ralph Bowen and Anson Bolte of the Grove Pastry Shop.

The Slave Mart operates almost the same. The slaves whose services are to be auctioned off are: Dr. Frank Gigliotti, George O'Leary, manager of McMahon's, Chuck Calkins, local draftsman, Dr. Frank McKenney, Lemon Grove veterinarian, Judge Luther Hussey, Lemon Grove attorney, and Dr. Thayer Crow.

Anyone may bid for one or two hours' services of these men for any work these "Slaves" are ordered to do.

A 75c bid has already been made for Judge Hussey as a floor mopper.

A $25.00 offer has been made for the permission to shove a berry pie into Goodwin's face. These events will take place in the plaza, exact times to be announced later.

Ted Fetters, operator of Pal's, has extended an invitation to the four Marines who are making the march to Los Angeles. The Marines are the ones who made the Chosen Reservoir march in Korea early in the war. Fetters said that he would give them a steak banquet, with all the trimmings at a date to be decided later this week.

Fetters said that receptacles would be set up for contributions on the day of the banquet and visitors or spectators could contribute to the polio fund. He said that all receipts of his cafe, from the time the banquet started until the end of the day, would go directly into the Lemon Grove polio fund.

All volunteers who are willing to take part in the slave auction or the pie push are requested to contact Dr. Nicholl, the Review office, or Michael's.

Forrest Dokken, assistant chairman of the local drive, has been named autioneer for both the pie pushing event and the slave auction. He will also participate in the "road block."

The Kiwanis Club, aided by the Girl Scouts, Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, and the like, will handle the balloon sales in the two day Block of Dimes event. These also will be on the 28th and 29th.

The Fire Department laddies have promised to inflate the balloons for the event.

Goldy said the Lemon Grove Lions would make Broadway a toll street for January 29 and all vehicles will be stopped, and may proceed after depositing a coin in one of the polio receptacles.

The Sportsmen's Club, a cafe on Main Street, will hold a shadow auction and box supper starting at 8 p.m., Saturday, January 29. Proceeds from these events will go into the polio fund. In addition, all net profits from the entire day will be contributed by the cafe's operator, "Kamp" Kempton.

A Lemon Grove Success Dance of Dimes will be held at Michael's on Monday, February 14. Tickets will go on sale early next week, reported Dr. Calvin Nicholl, chairman of polio events committee.

All of the proceeds resulting from the dance will go to the fund, plus profits from Michael's Cafe for the entire day of February 14.

Lemon Grove horsemen have been invited to take a part in the National City March of Dimes January 30, and many have indicated that they will participate. In this case, the riders will make the contributions.

Other communities in Lemon Grove will also hold events. One such which attracts considerable attention is the Block of Dimes held in the business district of Monterey Heights by the Monterey Heights Girl Scouts and Brownies. This year it will be held Saturday, January 22.

COUNTY AUTO SHOW SET FOR FEB. 2

San Diego County's first auto show in 22 years was announced by Richard McCune of the Motor Car Dealers of San Diego County. The 1955 San Diego International Show, set for February 2-6 in the Electric Building of Balboa Park, will be the same Pacific Coast automobile exposition scheduled for Los Angeles and San Francisco. Show hours will be 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

McCune, president of the Motor Car Dealers Association of San Diego, said it would be the most dramatic, spectacular pageant of the year. "We know San Diegans will appreciate the efforts of the Motor Car Association in providing the products of America's automotive industry an opportunity to be displayed locally."

Some of the features planned include:

Plans for a top name band and other entertainment. Entertainment will be held from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. nightly.

A show highlight will be the much publicized experimental cars. These cars are valued as high as $250,000 each.

Floor plans indicate over 100 cars of all makes and models will be on display. Special factory exhibits and demonstrations will be shipped from the East.

Governor Goodwin Knight has been asked to conduct the grand opening ceremonies on Wednesday afternoon, February 2, at 2 p.m.

Opening ceremonies will feature a 22 searchlight night-time display. This outdoor display will symbolize the 22 year span since the last auto show.

Executives of leading manufacturers from Detroit and Midwest are expected to attend because of San Diego's nationally-famous winter resort attractiveness, and because of the growing importance of San Diego in the California automobile market.

A tremendous attendance is anticipated because of the broad general interest in 1955 cars. Since this is the first show in 22 years, the entire county is expected to turn out in order to insure the Auto Show as an annual event.

President McCune added "The Motor Car Dealers Association for many months has been weighing the matter of holding a show in 1955. It first wanted to be sure, however, that the event could be a truly great auto show, rivaling those of other great metropolitan centers. When we decided that this was financially possible, we decided to go ahead.

"The size and range of the exhibits, the quality of entertainment planned, and the elaborate decorations are all calculated to give San Diegans an outstanding spectacle worthy of this great area."

The show is sponsored by the Motor Car Dealers Association of San Diego County, with the board of directors serving as the show committee.

Larry Smith, association manager, has been appointed show manager. The committee is composed of: President Richard McCune, McCune Motors; Vice President Art Coltrain, La Jolla Motors; Treasurer Bob C. Bauer, Bob Bauer Motors; A. W. Art Carey, University Motors; Marvin K. Brown, Marvin Brown Cadillac; Walter Astler, J. R. Townsend; Harold H. Utschig, Balboa Oldsmobile.

I CORRESPOND WITH PRESIDENTS

By BOB TURNBULL

The Secretary to Prime Minister Louis S. St.-Laurent, Prime Minister of Canada, sent me a very nice letter a few weeks back. Mr. J. S. Cross, the secretary in question, answered my letter and responded to my requests. Mr. Cross stated that Mr. St.-Laurent wanted me to know that he acknowledged the receipt of my letter and thanked me for, as he said, "thoughtfulness in writing." The letter, from the office of the Prime Minister in Ottawa, went on to tell me a little about the enclosed material, which I requested. Mr. Cross then sincerely signed his name.

The enclosed booklets were both interesting and educational! The first booklet I discovered was the official report of the House of Commons Debates (1st session, 22nd Parliament) of Friday, November 13, 1953. It was similar to the minutes of regular club meetings and was written in a combination of English and French. The appendix of the booklet contained an address of Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, to members of the Senate and of the House of Commons and the general public in the House of Commons chamber, Ottawa, on Saturday, November 14, 1953. President Eisenhower received a warm introduction, a standing ovation and even closed with a little French.

The second pamphlet was the address of the Prime Minister (Canada) to the annual meeting of the Canadian press, Toronto, April 28, 1954. It was a lengthy, 12-page speech that carried a terrific message.

(Next week: A surprise).

GROSSMONT OFFERS ADULT CITIZENSHIP CLASSES

The Grossmont Adult Education Program now offers free instruction for all future citizens who are preparing to take their examinations for citizenship.

This is an opportunity that will greatly assist those who are anxious to succeed in this important step to becoming American citizens.

These classes will be held Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m., at the Grossmont High School, Grossmont.

STATE FORMS MUST BE PREPARED BY EMPLOYERS

Employers who are now preparing Forms W-2 for the U. S. Internal Revenue Service should also prepare Forms IT599 for the California Franchise Tax Board, states Robert C. Kirkwood, the board's chairman.

Employers must report to the state for each employee who during 1954 was paid $2,000 or more if single, and $3,500 or more if married. Payments must be reported for services rendered in California even though the employee resided in some other state. Also, if the employee is a resident of California, a Form IT599 must be filed even though the services were performed outside California.

Copies of Federal Form W-2 may be used in lieu of State Form IT599 provided it is clearly indicated whether the employee is single or married and they must be accompanied by Form IT596. They must be filed with the Franchise Tax Board on or before Tuesday, February 15.

The installation ceremony was handled by Orin Todd Jr., Kiwanis District lieutenant governor. In the picture above he is being welcomed by retiring president, Max Goodwin. John Dail was toastmaster.

Coral Bells Make Sparkling Masses of Fiery Red Blossoms For L. G. Gardens

Planting perennials for trouble free gardening is well borne out in fact when planting the ever popular Heuchera Sanguinea or Coral Bell as it is commonly known. Coral Bell, once established, becomes a fixture in the

CORAL BELLS

Lemon Grove garden for as long a period as is desired with little or no additional fuss or bother. Coupled with delicately marked foliage that is attractive during the entire year is a production of bloom during the flowering period that is breath taking. From the low mound-like leaves long bare stems jet out all over the plant and then scores of little coral colored blossoms unfurl their minute contribution to the whole mass. The result is reminiscent of the old adage "United we stand, divided we fall" for in the union of these myriads of small blossoms is indeed a strength of coloring that is amazing.

Coral Bell is one of many perennials that are wisely planted as soon as possible. The season for perennials is such that a long period of cool growing weather is beneficial to their best development. While they can be handled later on through the spring months, the quicker planted the better the results that will be forthcoming. Some growers do plant up gallon cans of the better perennial items and they can be handled in this manner, however, for most results with the least expense, planting directly from flat grown plants has proven to be the most economical method of handling. Particular caution should be taken in regards to Columbine, Canterbury Bell, Ranunculus and Coral Bell as these items need growing time in the garden location in order to give satisfactory results. Plant them soon or forget them as a source of color for this season.

Coral Bell is derived from one of the smallest seeds in the flower kingdom. Individual seeds weigh about 1/400,000th of one ounce or almost seven million to the pound. Handling such fine seeds presents many cultural problems to the commercial grower, but with tender care and proper precautions and in a time period of approximately five months, the grower, after a series of transplantings and weedings and of fertilizing, spraying and watering, brings to the market a product ready for garden use that is truly huge compared to the tiny seed unit from which it was germinated.

Use of Coral Bell has been largely held to that of a border plant although its alpine characteristics would suggest planting in any hillside or rock garden area. It is quite drouth resistant and puts down a remarkably tough root development once it has become established. Indeed, plantings will endure a full summer heat without any care and rejuvenate with the winter rain. Because of this remarkable ability to fend for itself plus its abundant show of color, Coral Bell should have a place in any garden that is troubled with spots that dry out badly or are remote from a water tap or that are by nature of their location difficult to keep adequately irrigated. This is not to say that Coral Bell cannot thrive in watered areas, for Coral Bell is recommended for borders along a lawn because of its neat appearance and nice manners. As to water, Coral Bell will thrive in such a well watered location.

No Set Theme for Del Mar Fair This Year

Local organizations entering displays in this summer's Southern California Exposition and County Fair at Del Mar, will not have to follow an established theme, Paul T. Mannen, secretary-manager, announced this week.

Many exhibitors have felt they are restricted in their planning by conforming with an established motif, Mannen said. "We believe we will get more diversified displays without a theme."

Mannen also announced that the Division of Fairs and Expositions had turned down his request for a shorter Junior Fair. Several 4-H and FFA groups have sought a five or six day period for exhibiting their livestock.

Meanwhile, work is going ahead on schedule on grandstand improvements. Two separate contracting firms are extending both ends of the plant. It is expected to have the project completed in time for the exposition, Mannen said.

1. OPENING

The opening gives your name and general place of residence. It says that what follows is your will. It may say (although it need not) that you are competent—of sound mind—to make a will. You revoke older wills. Sometimes you state the names of your wife or husband, and of your children.

Have you ever changed your name or used another signature? Then say so. Your county of residence, too, may be declared, to identify you and to aid should a question arise as to your domicile. Here you may direct your executor to pay your just debts.

2. DISPOSITIVE CLAUSES

This part tells who gets what and how. As a rule, it begins with specific gifts like heirlooms, real estate, and the like. Here you may leave a home for someone's lifetime use, and then have it go to someone else. Are you leaving some mortgaged property? Then is the mortgage to be paid off first?

Then come the general bequests from the estate, as a rule, in cash. At last, you set out the "residuary" gifts—what's left over.

Here you may say whether your estate or part of it goes in trust or in outright ownership.

From what part of the estate should the money for death taxes come? If you do not say, the law will. Such things call for your thought.

Do you leave lump sums to people, or percentages? Estates often shrink in worth after a will is made. The lump sums, plus taxes and bills, may take so much that little is left over, say, for one's wife and children.

3. ADMINISTRATIVE

Here you name your executor—an individual, a bank or trust company, and, in some cases, co-executors. Your executor is your personal representative. You may also name a substitute, if your first choice cannot serve. Here you say whether your individual executor serves without bond.

4. SIGNATURE AND WITNESSING

The rest of your will—your signature and, if the will is not entirely written, dated and signed in your own handwriting, the witnessing—is the part necessary to prove your will in court. This part is vital in case of any dispute as to the validity of the will.

Throwin' The Bull

By Bob Turnbull

It's a Joke, Son! . . . Every American boy has a chance to be President when he grows up—it's just one of the chances he has to take.

—o—

Dis 'n Dat . . . A new trend among highschoolers is the doubling of income while on a baby-sitting job. Teenagers who are handy with a typewriter find that it's profitable to drag their machines with them on "Baby Squatting" nights to address envelopes or type various forms. Anyway, it's good practice for those typing classes. . . . Gift suggestion: A "hobby shirt." "Hobby shirts" are fun to make and fun to receive; simply trace a design on the back of a shirt depicting his (or hers as the case may be) favorite hobby, then embroider it! It's as easy as that! . . . Are you a D. D.? There is usually one D. D. (Delinquent Dancer) when the gang gets together for a mild blast. The records start screaming around the turntable and the hero of this little story, in this case a Pest, romps into the other couples and yells, "Lookit this step, willya?" The D. D. wrestles a few more partners and suddenly finds himself alone. He automatically insists the "others" are "squares." By prechance are you a dance-floor athlete? Check the next time you feel that urge to prance—instead of dance. . . . The latest foot fashions for some Detroit teen-agers are shoes that carry messages. The messages are so incomprehensible that they sometimes baffle other teen-agers. Some of the wierdies are "Kind of not too goodish," "Many many funs," "Blurp," "Oh Pain," and a few other idiotic scriptions I dare not say!

Truthful Gossip . . . Congrats to Miss Judy Lee Pratt who was recently installed honored queen of the La Mesa Job's Daughters. . . . Congrats to Beverlee Deem, '54 Helix grad, who was recently formally initiated into Cetza, lower division honorary service organization for women, at State College. . . . Congratulations also are due to Tom Warburton, former Helix vice-principal, who will return to this area to become Grossmont's principal. When the tragic news of Tom going to Grossmont hit Helix's campus—it was truly a sad day! . . . They say the kids who used to laugh at pa's golf knickers are now wearin' "Bermuda shorts" to college. . . . I guess just about everybody in Lemon Grove is so proud of their Dennis Hopper that they could bust their surplus vest buttons. Dennis, of TV's "Medic" fame, just signed a long term contract with Warner Bros., and will soon be seen in "Rebel Without a Cause." Mr. Movies, originally from Dodge City and a '54 Helix graduate, hasn't even been out of high school a year yet. . . . On radio the Don Howard show can now be heard from 3-6 in the afternoon and from 11 to 1 at night, Monday-Friday. On Sunday he broadcasts from 9-12 a.m., always on KSDO. Don's TV show is on channel 10 every Saturday from noon till one and is properly titled, "Don Howard's TV Parade of Hits." . . . A march to the altar on an undecided wedding date face Joan Kimball and David Brown. Joan just passed with honors from within the walls of Helix. . . . "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." (Luke 2:14.)

Sport Shorts . . . Was really surprised to see Helix maul Sweetwater so much, 57-29. In fact I was surprised to see Helix win! . . . Three cheers for State College and Junior College who are really livin' it up on the basketball courts thus far in the season. . . . Old Scores: Helix Bees 44, Sweetwater Bees, 43; Helix soph cagers 33, San Diego frosh-soph squad, 25; Helix Bees 42, Mission Bay Bees 19. . . . Did ya hear about Hamilton (N. Y.) college, which had to cancel its home swimming schedule because it did not have enough water to fill the pool?

Just Plain Curious

CURIOUS about the big world outside his "V" hideout in an Algonquin Park, Ont., tree, this little raccoon just wonders what the cameraman is up to. The raccoon knows he is safe because firearms are prohibited in this 3,000 square mile reserve whose maze of lakes and streams are famed for their fighting speckled and lake trout. FNS

SATISFACTION IS A Certainty At MAYFAIR

Mrs. Rob Nelson of 3910 Loma Alta Dr. in Rolando names four things which she likes particularly about Mayfair. She likes the check cashing facility; the convenient arrangement of the merchandising gondolas; the easy parking, and the courtesy of Mayfair clerks. Her husband, distributor of Motor Formula No. 9, is in accord with her sentiments. "He shops with me, too," she added.

Mrs. George White, 8157 Baldwin Road, whose husband is a Navy man, is shown here with two of their three children. "We favor Mayfair meats," she said, "but we like the rest of it too. It takes considerable buying for a family of five but Mayfair satisfies our needs."

Gladys Duffner, 7049 Central Ave., whose husband is an employee of Benbough Furniture, finds Mayfair convenience as important as the "good quality" of food on Mayfair shelves.

"We make several trips to the market each week because it's so convenient," Mrs. Duffner said. "Shopping at Mayfair isn't a chore, like it is at so many other markets," she said.

Marvin Ford, 3418 Trophy Dr., a clerk in the liquor department, exhibits what we think is a pretty good display of friendliness and good humor as he goes about his daily task.

"I think Mayfair customers show good taste in their choice of potables," he said, "but then Mayfair customers are very choosy in everything they buy. I never have to explain or apologize for anything we sell. That's why working for Mayfair is fun. Most everybody is happy all the time."

Satisfaction is one of the keystones of Mayfair operation. Time and time again our patrons tell us that shopping at Mayfair gives them a feeling of marketing completeness.

All our aims are to contain more varieties of more things through the complete range of prices so that shoppers need never feel that they have to go elsewhere.

By the expression of our customers we believe we have done it, too!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear editor:

Many local citizens felt statements made recently by a local minister on Harold Keen's TV program were untrue.

We are interested in Lemon Grove's good name and dislike the false impression that such remarks give, particularly on an issue so awesome as narcotics.

Those citizens who inquired of the sheriff's department and the narcotics bureau were given the following report by Deputy Chief W. H. Woods and other authorities:

Lemon Grove, so far as juvenile and narcotics problems are concerned, is no worse than any area. As to narcotics it is one of the cleaner areas. Within the last year one resident of Lemon Grove was arrested for possession of narcotics and is serving time. One other addict, known to the sheriff's office, is a resident of Lemon Grove.

Lemon Grove is not a major narcotic area.

Dear Editor:

The Lemon Grove Woman's Club Juniors are presenting "Lilac Time," their second Annual Benefit Fashion Show on March 12. All proceeds are to be given to the Lemon Grove Swimming Pool Fund.

We are asking the merchants of Lemon Grove to help this worthy project by donating merchandis of services to be used as door prizes.

One of our representatives will call on you at a later date. At that time she will answer any questions you may have concerning this project.

We sincerely hope the Lemon Grove merchants will help make this Fashion Show a huge success, and they may be sure they will have the thanks of many, when our dreams of a swimming pool become a reality.

Sincerely,
Lemon Grove Woman's Club Juniors

Mrs. Ervin Major

Dear Editor:

For Mr. George A. Scott, and for me personally, I want to say "thank you" for your help during the Second United Success Drive.

The inches that piled up on our bulletin board showed us how much space you were giving us, and enthusiastic comments from our volunteer campaigners told us how valuable it was:

Now that the campaign is over, year round projects are beginning to take shape, many of them resulting from two successful campaigns. Our budgeting is in full swing, and soon the Community Welfare Council will be starting a long range study of health and welfare needs in the whole area.

We would like the chance to sit down with you and discuss just what these projects will mean to the community. We'll give you a call in the next week or so to make a date.

Sincerely,
Marilyn Nott
Public Relations Director

Citizens of Lemon Grove:

Are you a Litterbug? We think everyone in this community will deny it. But are we all satisfied with its appearance? Does one think of Lemon Grove as a place to throw papers, beer bottles, cans, junk and other trash? We canot say that this condition does not exist. However, we can do something about it.

The Garden Section of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club urges all citizens who would like to see our town neat, attractive and a place to be proud of, to actively participate with other San Diego County communities in wiping out the Litterbug habit.

Through the gracious assistance of the Lemon Grove Review in publishing this appeal to its readers there can be no doubt that it will greatly alleviate the present tendency of many people to continue this careless habit.

Let us all join in this National Litterbug Campaign.

EVERLASTING LIFE LESSON-SERMON THEME

The life-giving healings accomplished by the Master Christian, Christ Jesus, high lights the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Luke Gospel (7:13-15) tells that when Jesus saw the son of the widow of Nain, carried out, "he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother."

Dr. Calvin Nicholl, of Lemon Grove, secretary of the San Diego County Optometric society, smiles as he congratulates Marlene Minnier, 17, Helix High school senior on winning this handsome perpetual trophy for submitting the best entry in the county-wide poster contest, sponsored by the society.

Two co-eds, one from Helix high school in La Mesa, and the other a 11 grader in a parochial school in San Diego, took top honors in the annual county-wide poster and essay contest, sponsored jointly by the San Diego County Optometric socity, and the Vision Conservation Institute.

Seventeen-year-old Marlene Minnier, senior at Helix high, school won top honors, and the perpetual trophy for submitting the winning poster depicting "Safer Driving Through Better Vision."

Alice Martinelli, 16, junior at the Regina Coelli Academy, won the best 200-word essay out of several hundred entries on the same topic.

Hundreds of students in 14 high schools of the city and county competed.

John Harris, chairman of the essay-poster contest for the second year, presented the awards at the recent dinner-meeting of the San Diego County Optometric society at the San Diego Club. Dr. Bernard Schemmer, president, presided.

Other winners for the poster contest included: James Crowell, Jr., senior at Sweetwater high school, second; and Amelita Osorio, senior at the Our Lady of Peace Academy, third.

In the essay contest, other winners are: Alvina Warbock, sophomore at Point Loma high school, and Gloria Hunsberger, 17, senior at Grossmont Union high school, third.

These winning entries are submitted in a state-wide contest, winners of which receive $100, first; $50 for second and $25 for third, with several honorable mentions.

The winning poster in the state contest will be featured on major billboards throughout California for one year, Dr. Harris said.

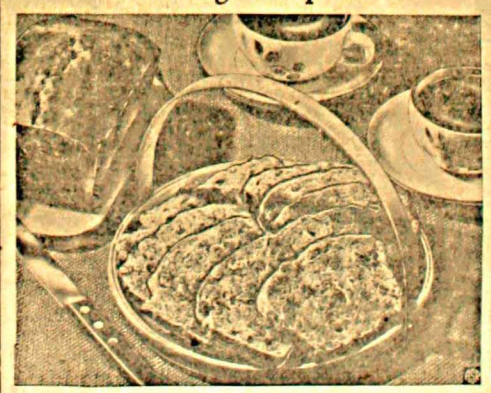
Here's A Quick Bread That Brings Compliments



The woman who serves a home-baked loaf of bread always draws compliments from her family or guests. And it's so easy to be on the receiving end of those kind words with a quick loaf that's as easily mixed and wonderful to eat as this Caramel Nut Bread.

Here is a recipe for an ever-popular nut bread with an extra mellow flavor because cereal flakes are used as well as chopped nuts. Take your choice of bran flakes, corn flakes or whole wheat flakes from your breakfast cereal array. They not only add to the flavor, but also give a more interesting texture to the bread—a wonderful partner for the delicate caramel flavor.

And here's a trick that will give you a glistening top to the loaf. While it's on the cooling rack, brush the top with maple flavored syrup. You can slice the bread as soon as it's cool, then serve it perfectly plain or spread with butter or cream cheese. Wonderful with a generous cup of hot coffee.

Caramel Nut Bread

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon ginger
1 egg, beaten
1¼ cups milk
¼ cup fat, melted
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup bran flakes, whole wheat flakes or 2 cups corn flakes (slightly crushed after measuring)
Topping—optional
2 tablespoons maple-flavored syrup

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and ginger. Combine beaten egg, milk and slightly cooled fat. Add to dry ingredients, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fold in nuts and cereal flakes, being careful not to overmix. Pour into well-greased loaf pan, 8½ x 4½ x 2½ inches, and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 minutes. Cool on rack. Brush top of loaf with maple-flavored syrup if desired.

Yield: 1 loaf.

Methodists to Conduct Religious Census

Members of the Lemon Grove Methodist Church will begin taking a religious survey of the east side of Lemon Grove on Sunday, January 23, according to Reverend Don Cooke, minister of the church. Census takers will call from door to door beginning at 1:30 p.m. to obtain the religious preferences of occupants. Those stating their preference or connection to be with another church will be referred to that church. This census is being organized by the Commission on Evangelism under the leadership of Mrs. Leona Bowersox, chairman, Rev. Cooke states that it is hoped this survey will be of help to the entire community.

The territory to be covered in this survey will be generally that area bounded by the School District line on the north, Imperial on the west, Jamacha on the south and Sweetwater Road on the east. The survey will continue throughout the week and be completed on Sunday afternoon, January 30.

Rev. Cooke stressed that no questions other than that of religious preference will be asked. Callers will take only a moment at the door to record the information. The cooperation of the community will be greatly appreciated.

Church Co-Op School Answers Need of Busy Parents

By JANE MAYS

A community need in our town is being met by a co-operative nursery school three mornings a week for many pre-school age children. The Congregational Church sponsors the school which is held in the church school facilities on Main Street. The school grew from the needs of mothers and children in this area. The boys and girls are divided into two groups, the juniors and the seniors, depending on their individual readiness. Outdoors, they climb in the jungle gym, go down the slide, swing and expend their energy on the many tricycles and other wheel toys provided for their use. Those who want a quiet spot may wander to the sandbox, the playhouse, or maybe give the fence another coat of paint, (the harmless kind available at the water faucet). A popular spot is the old rowboat on the playground.

When it is time to go indoors, they find special hooks and hangers, junior size, for their coats and sweaters. First, a little singing, perhaps a march, or a musical game. Others may choose to play at the dough table with rolling pins and muffin pans just like Mommy's. Ten o'clock, and it's juice time, after first taking turns to wash their hands in special low-built wash basins. The tables are set with juice and crackers, before which they all say grace. Next, they will probably get a little dirty, though aprons are used, while finger painting. Some may wish to paint with brushes at the easels, work puzzles, play with blocks, or string a macaroni bracelet. After they finish these activities they are usually quite willing to settle down for a while and listen to some records or have a story before it is time to go home. Special occasions call for a party, such as the Christmas one, with the children helping to decorate their tree. It may not win any awards, but the shining satisfaction in their eyes from having done it themselves is enough for the parents.

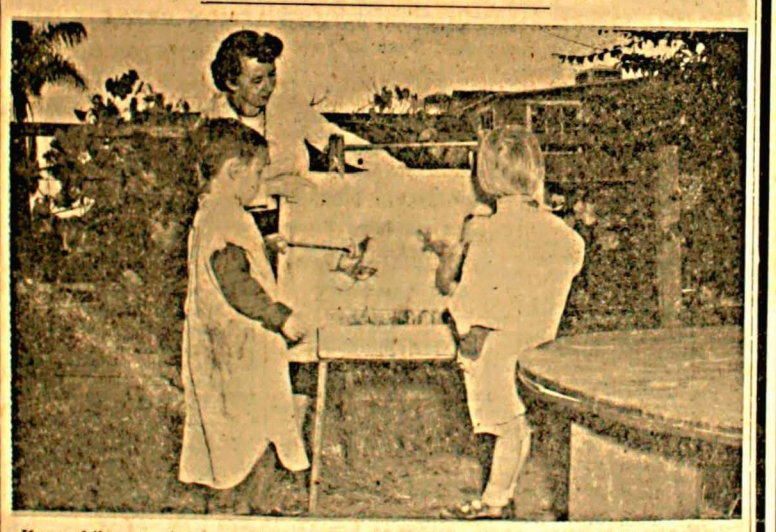
The children go to school each Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday morning from 9 to 11:30. They learn to live and play harmoniously with other children. The nursery school offers them experience with equipment that is frequently not available at home. It also helps develop a feeling of personal worth and independence which is so necessary when they progress to the elementary grades.

The mothers are on a working schedule, whereby they work with the children one morning every other week. With four or five mothers each day, plus the two paid directors, the children are well taken care of. The mothers are also required to attend an evening meeting once a month. This may be a discussion group, training program, or a workshop to provide more equipment for the school. Recently the mothers made a set of rythm instruments for the music period. The benefits for the mothers are many in a group of this kind. They have a chance to work with and observe other children. With the training program and the workshops, they learn, discuss, and practice tested and approved methods of child guidance. It also refreshes their outlook by getting them away from their usual home atmosphere. The mothers elect an executive board which takes care of any business. This year the board includes Miss Gertie Scovel, and the Mmes. Leonard Fugate, Howard Mays, Robert Bennett, Joseph Blackwood, Don Bergstedt, Ben Ela, Russell Eldridge, Ray Heiserman, Ernest Chambers, and Paul Shipps.

This is the first year the school has had two paid directors. Mrs. Dorothy Roberts received her training at the Lesley Nursery and Kindergarten School in Massachusetts. She was formerly a teacher in the Lemon Grove School District for ten years. Mrs. Marian Bashinski is a graduate of Florida State University and has taught in Georgia and Florida. Through their guidance, they help the mothers understand just how much should be expected of their children.

The nursery school is the only co-operative one in this area. It was started three years ago; the first year had an average attendance of 11 children, the following year an average of 18 children, and this year 32 children have participated. The school is self-supporting and operated on a non-profit basis. There is a nominal fee, which is approximately half the national average. The mothers and children are proud of their co-operative school, and anyone who is interested is welcome to visit it at any time.

Fruit juices served in copious quantities add vitamins for the benefit of the youngsters' health. At the Nursery School Mrs. Marian Bashinski is shown giving orange juice to her class.



If any of the youngsters have a tendency toward the arts, that tendency is not held back at the Nursery School. Mrs. Joseph Liebert is shown directing a class in art. Many of the kiddies are already showing considerable talent along this line.

Story telling is an important part of the curriculum at the Congregational Church Nursery School. Here, Mrs. Dorothy Roberts is shown telling kiddies a story about Santa Claus.

Try-Outs Continue for 'Take Your Medicine'

"Tonight is board meeting night for the Heartland Players of Lemon Grove, and it will be held at Jack Arbuckle's home, 1953 Ensenada, Monterey Heights, for board members only." That announcement was stated at Monday's meeting of the local theatrical group when they met at the junior high school. Regular business was conducted with a lot of old and new business referred to the various active committees.

Emily Jordan, director of the next major production, "Take Your Medicine," announced that on every Tuesday evening she was having try-outs and readings at her home, 3230 Alford St., here in Lemon Grove. All those interested should call her at HO 9-3669. The group was reminded by Mrs. Jordan that their fairly new policy of "family fun and fun for the family" was to be their special task in all future plays, skits, what-have-you.

Anyone interested in the theater group's activities, try-outs for various parts in the up 'n coming play, etc, should either call Barbara Arbuckle at HO 9-7247 or Emily Jordan at HO 9-3669.

!THE SHOW'S THE THING!

Like hard-hitting drama? Like suspenseful action that has a realistic touch from start to finish? Then you'll like tonight's movie at the Grove theater titled "Rear Window," Alfred Hitchcock's academy award nominee. Jimmy Stewart, the star, portrays a bedridden intellectual who sort-of spots a murder committed in a neighboring apartment house. Through tense action that many times has the audience on the edge of their seats he finally solves the crime just in time, before the police finally give up. Grace Kelly portrays Stewart's society-girl sweetheart who almost, at one time, winds up a very beautiful corpse. "Rear Window" has been generally acclaimed the 'movie of the year' and is a must on every theatergoer's list. The setting, pace of the story, acting, scene shots, etc., are all excellent, Stewart's neighbors are a story in themselves, just to watch them. Killers, Miss Torsos, drunken musicians, eccentric women that talk to themselves and even a cute li'l pup that is mysteriously slain, all add to the story's plot. The co-feature is "Black Dakotas" and stars Wandra Hendrix and Gary Merrill. The main feature at the Saturday matinee is "Angel and the Badmen," starring John Wayne in one of his earlier roles.

Doris Day is the No. 1 choice for Mary Martin's Nellie Forbush role when "South Pacific" comes to the screen. . . . A new picture soon to be released is "Tigero!" It's the story of the intrepid hunters of the Matto Grosso who stalk jaguars — speediest and most tricky of all savage beasts—on foot with only a long metal spear for a weapon. The film will be made entirely on location in Brazil. . . . Gerald Mohr who took over the top spot in the "Foreign Intrigue" TV series will star in the motion picture of that title. B. T.

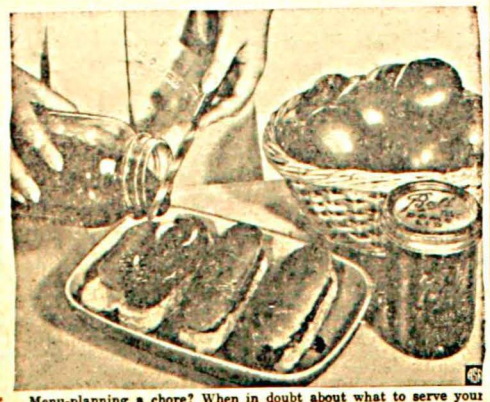
Your Menu-Planning Made Easy With Home-Canned Tomatoes



Menu-planning a chore? When in doubt about what to serve your family, remember that good old stand-by, home-canned tomatoes. They're delicious prepared a number of ways; and among the countless tempting menu-sparkers are tomatoes with okra, tomato sauces and soups, tomato rarebits, vegetable mixture, delicately flavored tomato preserves, and those two faithfuls of the American table, tomato ketchup and chili sauce.

The distinctive flavor of chili sauce adds a wonderful tang to a variety of other foods: It may be combined with mayonnaise for a delicious Russian dressing; mixed with horseradish for a racy seafood cocktail; spread on hamburgers; or lend zest to a meal in countless other ways. And you may vary the amount of spices in your chili sauce to achieve a truly individual taste. Here's a recipe for chili sauce, taken from the Ball Blue Book, which you may like to try:

1 gallon tomatoes	1 tablespoon mustard seed
2 cups chopped onions	1 tablespoon celery seed
2 cups chopped red sweet peppers	3 tablespoons mixed spices
1 pod hot pepper	2½ cups vinegar
1 cup sugar	3 tablespoons salt

Wash and drain vegetables. Scald, core, peel and chop red-ripe tomatoes. Peel onions; remove seed from peppers; chop and measure. Mix all ingredients except spices and vinegar. Boil 45 minutes. Add spices (tied in bag). Boil until very thick, then add vinegar and boil until as thick as wanted. (Taste; add more seasoning and sugar if wanted.) Pour, boiling hot, into Ball Jars; seal at once.

Note: If preferred, ½ of the sweet peppers may be green.

And, isn't it wonderful to know that the tomatoes you put up yourself are real budget-stretchers? For example, the tomato juice you make of tomatoes grown in your own garden costs you only about 5¢ a quart.

If you would like to add to your own collection of favorite home-canning recipes, you may be interested to know that the Ball Blue Book on canning and freezing—with simplified methods, yields, timetables and over 300 home-canning recipes—is made available to you by sending 25¢ in coin to Ball Blue Book, Dept. Read II Corinthians 4:13-18

Love never faileth. (I Corinthians 13:8. ASV.)

It is said that when the great Central church in Honolulu was under construction, the architect said to the pastor, "There is to be an inscription on the pulpit stand. It must have 18 letters and spaces. We want you to select that inscription."

He knew that an inscription suitable for the pulpit stand would have to carry a message for the various experiences that come to the members of the family. He knew it should be suitable for Holy Communion, for funerals and weddings, for penitents and for those who would come to worship. After considerable prayer and effort, the pastor finally selected, "Love Never Faileth."

Love may seem slow and may seem to fail. It seems to have failed with Jesus, with Stephen and Paul, and with thousands of others. But has it failed? History gives testimony to the fact that, given time, it will succeed. It is the persistence of love as manifested in Jesus and others that causes us to respond today. Love may seem to be the long way around, but it is the only way.

Prayer

Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy love shed abroad in the world through Thy Son, Jesus Christ. If we know our hearts, today we love Thee, but only because Thou didst love us first. Help us, O God, not only to love Thee, but to prove our love for Thee by loving our fellow men. Amen.

Thought for the Day

Love may seem to be the long way around, but it is the only way.

Versatile, Young Co-Ed Holds Many Home-Canning Awards

Everywhere, it seems, home canning enthusiasts are appearing in lower and lower age brackets. Young people, for instance, like Beatrice Luoma, the charming 20-year-old Finnish-American girl who, over the past nine years has won innumerable blue ribbons for her outstanding work in home canning.

"I've been home canning as long as I can remember; canning everything I could lay my hands on," says this attractive young co-ed. As the oldest of nine children, living on a farm near Floodwood, Minnesota, Beatrice helped her mother with canning as a youngster; started winning home-canning prizes from her first days as a member of the 4-H when she was a mere 11 years old, and has continued rolling up a high score for her home canning ever since. In 1953, she demonstrated at the St. Louis County Fair (Minnesota), where she also won the championship for her canned vegetables; and that same year she took the blue ribbon at the Mimesota State Fair.

Last year, Beatrice put up over 100 quarts of pickles with the results again proving this young lady's remarkable ability for successful food preservation. Her sliced cucumber pickles, which she says are more tender when peeled, are made like this:

6 cups sliced cucumbers	1 green pepper
1 pound onions	¼ cup salt

Wash and peel cucumbers. Slice thin. Peel and slice onions. Seed and shred pepper. Mix vegetables, add salt, cover with lid and let stand at least 3 hours.

Place in a colander to drain excess liquid; and then rinse well by running cold water over the mixed vegetables. Add to hot syrup (given below) and heat slowly to just below boiling, stirring occasionally. Put in Ball Mason Jars; seal with Ball Dome Lids.

Syrup: Mix ingredients, bring slowly to boiling point and boil five minutes.

2 cups brown sugar	1 tbsp. mustard seed
½ tsp. turmeric	½ tsp. celery seed
¼ tsp. ground clove	2 cups mild cider vinegar

In two years, when Beatrice Luoma graduates from the University of Minnesota, where she's now majoring in home economics, her experience and knowledge in the homemakng arts will become doubly useful. For she plans to combine a career in Extension work with marriage to a young geologist.

Today, the many hobbies of this popular young college girl include square dancing, water skiing, church work, writing for a school paper, and cheer leader. But of them all, home canning, she finds, is the most challenging and rewarding. And, it was due in large measure to her keen interest in, and aptitude for, home canning that this personable young woman eventually decided upon a career in the home economics field.

Use Beef Gravy In Meat Pie

Beef and biscuits, tucked into a pie, are a triumph over leftovers. For here's a dish to turn surplus bits of this and that into eating ecstasy.

The family will relish this main dish pie and never dream you concocted it with leftovers (cooked beef, peas, potatoes) and a few kitchen staples (canned beef gravy, flour, pie crust mix). And you, Mrs. Homemaker, can rest on your laurels, for there's less fixing time when you use canned beef gravy, a ready-made sauce. Keep it on hand for stews, noodle and rice dishes, and as a topping for all kinds of meat.

To save time and reap full benefit of the oven, bake dessert with the pie. Fill scooped-out apples with fresh cranberries (cooked) and pour sugar syrup over top. Baking time for apples is slightly longer than for the pie, but this means they will be hot and juicy at dessert time.

While pie and apples are baking, toss greens with French dressing for the salad. These fixings take precious little time, and you're ready on the dot when the gang comes trooping to the table.

Beef 'n' Biscuit Pie

Filling:

1 cup cubed cooked beef	2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 can (1¼ cups) beef gravy	2 tablespoons flour
½ cup cubed cooked potatoes	1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup cooked peas	¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped onion

Crust:

Prepare pastry as for single crust pie

Combine all "filling" ingredients in a 1-quart casserole. Top with pastry; slash pastry so steam may escape. Bake in a hot oven. (400°F.) about 45 minutes or until crust is brown. 6 servings. FNS lems having to do with juveniles results from parents voluntarily bringing in their children because the child becomes 'too studious, or withdrawn,'" he said.

"Of course," he pointed out, "many of these are compensatory actions . . . an introversion to compensate for some imagined or real family problem."

Mrs. Miller said that a surprising number of cases are screened through her office which are initiated by parents. "Crime is not the charge in most of these," she said. "Odd personality traits and and personality conflicts are also the source of parental worry," she said.

We editors have eyed juvenile delinquency seriously for years. Many of us were, to a degree, delinquents ourselves. Some of us drank moonshine whiskey and chanced blindness and death, our youngsters chance only drunkenness. We stole tools from the side pockets of the touring cars of our day. Like today's kids, we did it for the heck of it, not for profit nor with a malicious motive. We overturned outhouses because we heard the adults of the day tell how much fun they had in doing the same thing a generation before ours.

In a survey conducted late last year, editors of the nation were almost unanimous in placing the blame on Parental Delinquency.

"A child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame," said King Solomon 2654 years ago, according to the editor of the Baldwin #(Mich.) Star. With that for a keynote, several score editors agreed generally that parents who live in a social whirl . . . frustrated parents . . . insecure parents . . . immoral parents . . . law-breaking parents . . . parents who ignore family life . . . parents who exercise no discipline over their youngsters were some of the main categories of parental delinquency leading to juvenile delinquency, the editors said.

One editor said "He who wears the coat of Juvenile Delinquency wears a coat of many colors, styled in the manner of the system by which we live. (The juvenile) is a product of the times. He wants to be a big wheel so he is a sucker for scandal stories in the dailies . . . wife-swapping articles, murders, crooked cops, crooked senators, spies in high places. Labor laws have a lot to do with . . . the system (which) tells him to loaf until he finishes school and when he has to work he never has learned how. He lives in a high priced world with a small allowance. . . ."

One of the men who conducts a column regularly in this paper doesn't buy this theory in the altogether.

"Let's face it," says he. "Some parents have kids that are stinkers."

Helix PTA to Hear Talk on Narcotics

The regular meeting of the Helix High School Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the school cafeteria on Thursday, January 27, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Brown, program chairman, announced the topic for the evening's program as "Alertness Overcomes Dangers!" William Robbins, special deputy in charge of narcotics of the San Diego Sheriff's Office, will bring with him a display and give a demonstrated talk about narcotics. There will be time allotted for questions and answers.

Benton Hart, principal of Helix, and Mrs. William Beasley, president of Helix P-TA, urge all parents to attend and become informed with first-hand knowledge about this subject—the teenager and narcotics is a vital problem that all parents should know about.

Pie and coffee will be served after the meeting by the hostesses from the La Mesa Dale, La Mesa Elementary, and Lemon Avenue school areas.

Com. and Mrs. L. D. Boyle of Lemon Grove, ways and means chairmen, have announced there will be a Mad-Hatters Ball to be held on February 19. Save that date! Come and hear all about the exciting details.

Helix High School P-TA now has 1004 members. Congratulations, parents, for putting us over our goal!

X-rays will be taken without charge.

POME

With the nearby mountains white topped again, Mrs. Randolph Morse submitted a poem she said was written several years ago.

CUYAMACA

Cuyamaca looks so chill and white today,
With snow new-fallen in the frosty night.
Beyond the lesser mountains' shadowed slopes
She stands apart a miracle of light.

Once I drew near the distant mountain's heart
And saw her beauty hid from valley eyes
Deep gorges, sun-bathed paths and evergreens
Whose branches swayed against the wind-swept skies.

The long road winding up a cloud touched trail
Swift golden hours, hush that came too soon,
Veiling the beauty of a wondrous sight
Mile after mile of azure lilac bloom.

The dawn may find Cuyamaca white with snow
With shivering birds nesting in drooping pine,
But I shall always see the lilac bloom
Because a radiant memory is mine.

Vista La Mesa Youths To Co-Chair Hi-Y Hoop Tourney

Roger Conlee and Robert Rabasco of the Vista La Mesa Hi-Y Club will serve as co-chairmen of the county Y.M.C.A. Hi-Y basketball tournament. Practice games will be held Saturday evenings at the downtown Y.M.C.A., followed by regular games on succeeding Saturdays.

The annual event is open to not more than 12 Hi-Y Clubs. Arrangements for swimming to follow the games was announced.

Parents of Blind Children To Meet Tuesday

Parents of the blind and visually handicapped children will meet at 1805 Upas St. at 8 p.m., Tuesday.

P-TA Sets Plans for Founder's Day

Plans for the February 17 Founders Day Program were discussed at the January 11 meeting of the Lemon Grove School P-TA executive board. Meeting at the home of Mrs. Vernon E. Linden, 1605 Skyline Dr., the group cancelled the pot luck dinner originally scheduled for that evening, but continued with plans for a square dance. Mrs. K. R. Trail, Mrs. John Dail, Mrs. John Mallaw, and Ben I. Schei were selected to attend the Ninth District Founders Day luncheon at the El Cortez Hotel in February.

The board members also discussed progress of fund-raising activities of the unit, and heard reports from welfare, magazine, and music chairmen.

In attendance were Mmes. John Dail, Herman Bryant, Carl Planchon, Billie Burke, George Kenworthy, K. R. Trail, Harold Randall, Frank Vaught, Robert Bevier, Jack Brook, George Bell, Harold Perkins, John Mallow, Robert Beckham, Charles Whalen, and Peg Darroch. Also meeting with the board were Ben I. Schei, school principal, Merlin Gale, Jack Lemmer, and Thomas Brogan.

The next meeting of the board will be on February 8 at the home of Mrs. Bert Cosby.

Baby Shower Given For Wives of Grove Teachers

A surprise baby shower was given by Golden Avenue teachers on Tuesday, January 18, for three members of that faculty. The affair was held in honor of Mrs. William Firtch, Mrs. Ray Curry, and Mrs. John Gregory, all wives of teachers at that school. A new "twist" to the shower, becoming popular in all district schools, was that the fathers-to-be were presented with gifts and asked to open them. Refreshments were served during the party.

The class enjoyed a very instructional visit, and learned how to protect themselves by knowing and obeying rules at all times whether riding on bicycles or walking. They were interested in the protection Sheriff Rigley gives Lemon Grove.

The children wrote a story about what they had learned, to take home.

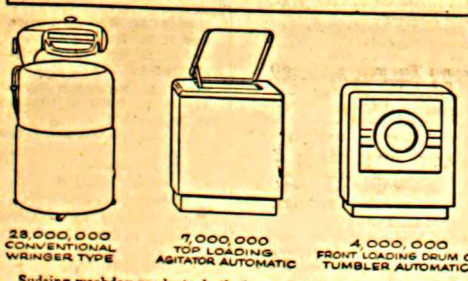
Otto Graeme, Lemon Grove telephone lineman, is shown checking aerial telephone wire connections in the Laguna Mountains last weekend. Company maintenance crews double checked the lines along a 12 mile stretch from Pine Valley into the mountains to insure service. A special type caterpillar tractor that travels over the top of the snow—which in many instances reached a depth of several feet—was used to reach the more isolated sections. All lines were kept working, despite heavy mountain snows.

Suds Best In 30 Million Of Nation's '34 Million Washers, Experts Claim



28,000,000 CONVENTIONAL WRINGER TYPE
7,000,000 TOP LOADING AGITATOR AUTOMATIC
4,000,000 FRONT LOADING DRUM OR TUMBLER AUTOMATIC

Sudsing washday products do the best and most economical job in getting the family wash clean, according to the latest tests and research developed by the chemical engineers of one of the country's leading manufacturers of washday products.

In a series of tests recently shown to home economists and editors in the nation's key cities, the research chemists from the laboratories of Procter & Gamble explained how sudsing products, which market research shows are preferred by most women, do the best washing job in 30 million of the 34 million washing machines now in use in the United States. These washing machines represent a five billion dollar investment and homemakers spent about half a billion dollars last year for the washday products they used for doing the family wash.

In addition to the nearly 23 million wringer or conventional type washing machines, it was pointed out, there are over 7 million top loading agitator type automatic washers. Both these types of machines have agitator type action and in these normal sudsing washday products, where the suds serve as a guide to the homemaker, do the best washing job.

Normal sudsing products are also more economical, it was pointed out. In the front loading drum or tumbler type of automatic washers, of which there are about 4 million in use, the non-sudsing products have a place because of the construction, special characteristics and washing action of these types of automatics.

Tests as to speed in wetting the fabrics, dirt removal under controlled conditions, whiteness tests under simulated daylight after repeated wear and launderings, were shown. These tests led to the conclusion that normal sudsing washday products were best in almost 9 out of 10 of the washing machines now in use. A special test using a Geiger Counter to trace deposits left in clothes was also used to show the superior rinsing qualities of normal sudsing products.

Good Sense— Not Nonsense

Within Reach—Health at the Start

Within reach of practically all babies is good health and a well developed body—truly one of the most precious endowments parents can give.

Such a start in life is a family affair. The baby's health at birth is affected by food habits—its family's food habits. The mother's long-time food likes and dislikes, in her parent's home and how she cooks to please her husband, all affect her and her unborn child, although possibly differently.

Science holds out a bright hope for parents. Mothers who have excellent or good diets during pregnancy—and before pregnancy—have good prospects for a bouncing, healthy baby, one that is well developed.

Getting ready for baby—particularly the first one—is a big event. A most important part is to choose an adequate diet, one which supplies enough of each needed nutrient. Science is finding that diet in the first months of pregnancy—and even before—may have a profound effect on the developing child.

A mother-in-waiting adjusts her food needs under the direction of her doctor. While her demands for calories will increase only moderately, her need for protein and calcium will rise sharply. Requirements for vitamin C and the B vitamins—thiamine, riboflavin and niacin—almost double. To take care of these changes, she will want to eat plenty of meat, eggs, and dairy products. She will almost double the quantity of fruits and vegetables.

Fortunately, inexpensive foods, such as potatoes and enriched bread are protective ones. According to a study made at the University of Iowa of diets of expectant mothers from modest income groups, enriched bread prevented deficiencies of two B vitamins—riboflavin and niacin—and iron, and supplied substantial quantities of protein and calcium. The study also revealed that potatoes, popular with this group, furnished sufficient vitamin C and additional iron.

All in all, parents can and do put good health in reach of their baby
